The traditional hospital may have stabilized your loved one. They may have provided excellent care that has helped your loved one survive. However, improvement has been slow and your loved one needs more time and additional care.

Our specialty hospitals can help. Our treatment teams specialize in caring for patients who have complex medical conditions and are not ready to be on their own. These are the few patients who need more time and more attention. They need specialized physician and nursing care. All of our services offer the attentive, compassionate care that your loved one needs most during this vulnerable time.
